

Pitmaston Reading Diaries

We hope you and your child enjoy using their new reading diary! It is important to help your child record how many nights that they have been reading throughout the year. This is so that they can get their sticker on the class reading chart and a certificate for when they reach: 25, 50, 75, 100, 125, 150, 175, 200 and 250 nights of reading. They will also still get to put a golden coin on the reading display when they reach certain milestones. If they manage to achieve 250 nights of reading, they will be invited to a special reward at the end of the year to celebrate their hard work and commitment to reading. So in order to keep track of this, please support your child with writing the number of nights they are currently on in the 'Date' column like this:

Date	Book title and page number	Parent/Teacher/Child Comments
① 7/4/20
② 8/4/20
③ 9/4/20

Every term, we will be awarding Early Years, Key Stage 1 and Key stage 2 Reading Ambassador certificates, where the class teacher and teaching assistant will choose someone who they feel has made excellent progress with their home reading. Reading Ambassadors are also chosen for their love of reading, their resilience and their willingness to share their passion and enthusiasm with others to promote reading throughout the school.

The class teacher or teaching assistant will check the diaries each week. When your child has completed their first reading diary, they will be given another one to continue with recording how many nights they have reached.

Your class teacher and teaching assistant are looking forward to hearing about all the fantastic books that will be read this year. Don't forget, books can be borrowed from our school library, book corners, St John's Library and The Hive.

Please aim to read with your child as much as you can (we recommend that children read at least 5 nights per week) and encourage them to explore a range of books. For lots of tips about how to effectively read with your child, visit the reading section on our school website.

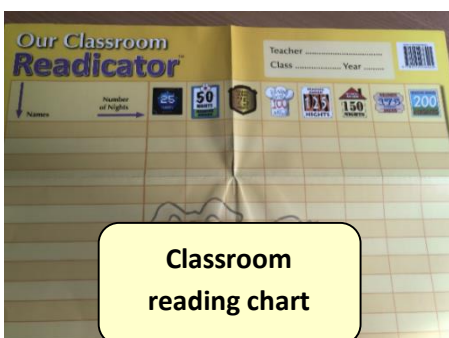

Thank you very much for your co-operation.

Happy reading Pitmaston!
