PITMASTON CULTURE VULTURES

Dear Parents,

We are pleased to announce the launch of Pitmaston Culture Vultures. Your child will bring home today a card which they will keep for the rest of their time at Pitmaston. It contains 20 pictures of activities to do in and around Worcester. On the back is a list of the activities, many of which are free. This week we have explained to the children how they can get involved in this fun project. Their aim is to collect as many stickers as possible for their chart. Every time your child undertakes one of these activities (outside of school or with us) they can claim a sticker. They just need to bring in the chart and ask their teacher, perhaps bringing along a photo, leaflet, some art or writing inspired by the visit or even just the memory.

As well as the fun of collecting the stickers, the children will also be rewarded with certificates; bronze for 5 stickers, silver for 10 stickers and a gold certificate when they collect 15 stickers. Any busy pupil who collects all 20 stickers over their time at Pitmaston will be awarded a Pitmaston Culture Vulture badge to wear with pride.

We are encouraging you to help your child to try as many activities as possible over the coming months and years. We have launched this project just before half term in the hope you could get started next week. Many of the activities have websites so if you would like to find out more about them, we suggest you look online.

Please chat to your child about what they might be interested in trying and we very much look forward to hearing all about what you discover.

Yours sincerely,

Mrs Sheehy
